FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Environmental Workshop Offered To Hamilton County Teachers

The Hamilton County Solid Waste Management District, in conjunction with its partners, is offering a workshop titled "Solving the Puzzle: Connecting the Pieces of Environmental Education" on Saturday, October 24th from 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at the Cincinnati Museum Center's Collett Hall. The workshop is for Hamilton County teachers, grades K through 12. The cost to participate is $10.00, plus $6.00 for parking. Teachers interested in attending must register by October 19th by contacting Susan Schumacher at (513) 946-7734 or susan.schumacher@hamilton-co.org.

By participating in the workshop, attendees will learn about the connections between recycling, water quality, air quality, energy, conservation and protecting animals. The workshop is sponsored by Crystal Clear Science, the Hamilton County Solid Waste Management District, the Hamilton County Soil and Water Conservation District, Duke Energy and Scholastic.

More information about the workshops is available at www.hamiltoncountyrecycles.org.
